

From the Samhain Weavers 2022.....

....the season has come to celebrate the coming of winter, yet the Elven Spirit reminds us the tree were once bare at this time of year

The Weaver of Origins remembers a time of creation from the gap between the lands of fire and ice. She remembers the lives and extinctions and asks, 'what will you mourn?'

The Weaver of the Now tells of times of change, lost traditions at the hands of humans, and a time of climate change extinctions happening now. She asks, 'what do you mourn?'

The Weaver of Becoming tells of a prophecy of the last of all things and conflict. She asks, 'what will you mourn? And can you change the prophecies?'

The Elven Spirit gives a gift of an acorn and asks, 'will you plant the seed and sing the old songs?'

The Galdr, the magic song he gives you is

Tyrwaz - courage

Ansuz – divine communication

Algir - protection

Fehu – wealth of love and magic

Berkano – new beginnings

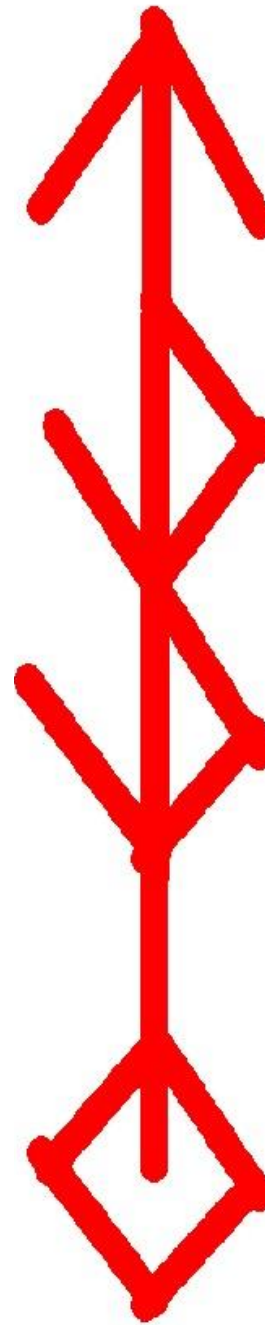

Ingwaz – fertility and life force

And the Galdr, the song
